DEAR READERS AND ADVERTISERS

IT'S ON THE COVER AND THERE IS AN ARTICLE ON WHAT YOU CAN EXPECT AT OUR OPEN DAY THIS YEAR. I'D LIKE TO PERSONALLY EXTEND AN INVITATION TO YOU ALL TO ATTEND AND PLEASE COME AND SAY HELLO AND INTERACT WITH OUR PRODUCT MANAGERS ON THE DAY.

The fact that we've moved it from our warehouse in Kempton Park to the Serengeti Golf and Wildlife Estate is an indication of our awareness of the event's growing stature and value to you, the customer. We have an excellent 3 days planned for you, so do make sure not to miss it.

The Nampo Harvest Day has come and gone, with organisers reporting new record attendance figures. Read about it on page 5 and 7.

South African producers have established a reputation among their global peers as being among the fastest uptakers of new technology and precision farming. This trend was clear at Nampo by the amount of enquiries into solar pump solutions. Our Power Products division has gone a step further by making use of our exclusive partnership deal with Yanmar to deliver custom made power solutions for the agri- and mining industries. Read more about it on page 6.

As a regular reader of The Distributor, you will know that we scour the four corners of the globe to bring you quality products. This time we are proud to announce the Timken brand, which has over a century of experience of ball bearing applications in diverse industries. Read about it on page 10.

As usual we have an exciting collection of new products to look out for on pages 8 and 9. All this and loads more in this Open Day edition.

Enjoy

HOW TO LOOSEN

A RUSTED BOLT OR SHAFT WITH Q10

EQUIPMENT THAT TYPICALLY LIVE OUTDOORS, SUCH AS OLD POOL PUMPS, WELL-POINT PUMPS, ETCETERA, GENERALLY HAVE A RUSTED BOLT OR TWO. FEAR NOT THOUGH, GRAB A CAN OF Q10 AND FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTIONS BELOW TO HAVE IT LOOSENED IN NO TIME.

You will need

- A can of Q10
- Appropriately sized spanners
- A hammer
- An aluminium block or brass drift.
- A heat gun
- A wire brush

Here's how to do it...

Use a small wire brush to remove any excess rust on, and around, the bolt/nut.

If possible, position the housing upright and saturate the bolt with Q10, which is a quick-acting, penetrating rust solvent and release agent. The Q10 will run down the shaft onto – and eventually into – the seized area. Leave the bolt for approximately 30 minutes to give the Q10 time to penetrate.

Using your spanner, try to turn the bolt or nut. If there's too much resistance and you feel the bolt may strip, or round its head, it would be best to apply another dose of Q10 and leave the bolt to stand for another 30 minutes.

If the bolt is still too tight, give the corner of the bolt head a firm tap with a hammer. Be sure to use a piece of aluminium or brass, so that the bolt head doesn't get damaged in the process.

If the abovementioned procedure still doesn't work, you may need to use a heat gun to warm and expand the housing around the bolt.

Once the housing is sufficiently heated, give the spanner another try. DIY TIP: You can increase your spanner's leverage/torque by linking two spanners together.

Once the bolt is loose, be sure to clean the thread with a wire brush and apply a squirt of Q20 to prevent future rust.

You may need to repeat some of these steps multiple times before the bolt/nut finally gives. Sometimes the best solution to a problem is not about what tool you use, but rather how persistent and patient you are. PD

MECH FOCUS

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM THE PRODIST MECH TEAM

By Ivan Kirkcaldy, National Sales Manager: Mechanisation

THE PRODIST MECHANISATION TEAM HAS EXCITING AND VERY IMPORTANT NEWS FOR OUR BUSINESS PARTNERS PERTAINING TO THE NEW DEVELOPMENTS OF OUR DIFFERENT PRODUCT RANGES MENTIONED IN THE PREVIOUS EDITION OF THE DISTRIBUTOR.

Thanks to good rainfall and above average crop yields, Prodlist has done extremely well with these ranges. While we have been challenged with insufficient stock due to higher demand, our levels have started to improve and as the stock and new items arrive, we are proud to announce the following:

With the decision of our long-term partner, Falcon, to do the marketing and distribution of their own parts, Prodlist has decided to expand this range and to start looking at other brands of slashers to create a one-stop-shop for the OEM or customer wanting to produce or maintain rotary cutters. Due to our strong relationship with key suppliers, we are able to supply our customers the OEM quality they are used to under the Zircon brand.

All the Falcon parts will be marketed as "Falcon replacement parts" and the (H) and (M) numbers will be amended and replaced with a (Z). Non-Falcon parts will remain the same. The new codes will be sent to all our customers with the latest pricing by the end of June. Some changes have been made to blades to be able to identify the Zircon blade. Changes have been made to the marketing strategy of loose components. Due to stock losses of smaller items, kits have been developed for each size rotary cutter for the fitting of blades. This has a benefit to the customer who only has to stock one item and thus makes identification of the correct parts more accurate. Reference charts have been developed and will be supplied to all customers stocking the range. Shelving and display items are also available and agriculture replacement parts full product support from our internal sales team and regional sales managers for training is readily available.

In addition to the Zircon (replacement parts range) the following will also be available in the next season: The Agrico and Lemken ripper points, blades for the newer Kuhn disc cutters and pick-up tines for the McHale baler. The range of sprayer parts has also been increased and the newest Udor Zetta 350 pump with aluminium exhaust manifold is available.

Nampo Harvest Day

It was good to see the positive sentiment at a busy Nampo 2017 and Prodlist would like to congratulate the organisers on their 51st anniversary - we are grateful for the ongoing good work done by Grain SA's management team. It was an eye-opener once again to see the range of products and services available to the farmer. The exposure to international companies is proof of the high demand for food security world-wide and allows for technology, improved production and cost effective cultivation methods to be brought under the spotlight.

Open Day - You're Invited

We would also like to invite all our mechanisation customers to attend our "Open Day" 27- 29 June 2017 to see the new products on offer. The Prodlist mechanisation team is at your disposal to discuss any new joint ventures or product ranges. The internal sales team will be able to provide any assistance regarding the products and sales process. We look forward to a better season ahead and commit to improving on our service delivery. PD

AGAIN A HIT AT NAMPO

THE NAMPO HARVEST DAY FESTIVAL IS THE PREMIER EVENT ON THE SOUTH AFRICAN AGRICULTURAL CALENDAR.

After the record attendance at the event's 50th anniversary last year, organisers were pleased to announce a new record of 78 648 patrons during the 4 day event, up from the approximately 75 000 visitors last year.

"Being part of the Nampo Harvest Day festival is a no-brainer for Prodist," says Prodist MD Brand Theunissen. "Our stand attracted significant interest and as mentioned in articles elsewhere in this edition, solar power is definitely a trend in agriculture in terms of efficient energy alternatives. As always our John Deere clothing and toys exhibition was a beehive of activity daily, with queues of people lined-up outside the entrance. Our product managers reported good interaction with visitors to our stall with good follow-up calls after the event. All in all it was once again the ideal platform to gain maximum exposure for our brand. Thank you for your patronage, hope to see you there again next year!" PD

SONKRAG IS DIE UITBLINKER OP DIE SKOU

deur Daniel Braithwaite, Tegnieise Produkbestuurder:

NAMPO IS IETS VAN DIE VERLEDE, MAAR DIE BESIGHEID MOET VOORTGAAN!

Ons het ons sonkragpompe tentoongestel en dit is duidelik dat die tendens om weg van die tradisionele elektrisiteitstelsel, sterk in die rigting van sonkrag beweeg. Ons het 'n oorweldigende aantal navrae gehad oor sonkragpompe deur klante wat stelsels benodig van tot 10 000 Watt sonpanele vir boorgatpompe om hul damme vol te maak en hul oeste te besproei.

Vir Prodist was die uitbinker op die skou beslis die Wortex by Nastec 02/02 Helical Multi Kragpomp met sy indrukwekkende werksverrigting en effektiwiteit. Minstens 75% van die navrae was oor dié eenheid. Die toepassings het gewissel vanaf drinkwater, die volmaak van damme vir besproeiing en watertrôe vir beeste, skape en wildsplase..

Ons bedank graag die produsente en al ons klante wat ons by die Nampo Oesdag besoek het, vir hul belangstelling in die sonkrag-pompreeks. Ons wil hulle ook graag verseker van ons uitstekende naverkoopsdiens en ondersteuning in die veld.

In die volgende uitgawe gaan ons berig oor die installasie van 'n nuwe sonkrag-boorgatstelsel met 'n 3 x 230V, 2.2kW motor, twintig 250Watt panele. Lees meer oor hoe ons nog 'n tevrede klant gehelp het om weg te beweeg van die elektrisiteitstelsel!! PD

MARKET LEADER NOW AVAILABLE THROUGH PRODIST

"FOR YEARS, TIMKEN® FAFNIR® HOUSED UNITS HAVE BEEN A LEADER IN THE AGRICULTURAL MARKET."

In 1899 (or sometime thereabouts), Henry Timken, a St. Louis carriage maker, recognised that heavy freight wagons struggled to make sharp turns. To solve the problem, he applied a tapered roller bearing design that could handle both radial (weight) and thrust (cornering force) loads. There were several customer benefits. First, the application ran more smoothly, reducing repair and replacement costs. In some cases the bearings improved wagon performance so much that fewer mules were required to pull them. Finally, better cornering meant less chance of losing a load of goods. Always focused on customer benefit, Henry quickly realised that the tapered roller bearing could improve product performance in many other applications as well. He and his sons, H.H. and William Timken, quickly founded The Timken Roller Bearing and Axle Company and began building the business into what it is today. Now you can benefit from their expertise by placing your Timken product orders at Prodist.

Leading in Agriculture:

They continue to develop special units to serve the agricultural market:

- Idler pulleys
- Idler sprockets
- Varieties of special bearings with steel or iron housings
- TDC coating on selected surfaces to protect against sea, land and fretting corrosion. PD

PRODIST'S BOLTS AND NUTS

NOW IN MORE EFFICIENT PACKAGING

PRODIST HAS BEEN A DISTRIBUTOR OF BOLTS AND NUTS (FASTENERS) FOR MANY YEARS AND IS EXCITED TO ANNOUNCE A NEW AND MORE EFFICIENT PACKAGING SYSTEM WHICH WILL ALLOW FOR EASIER USAGE AND SELECTION

Senior Product Manager at Prodlist, Gert Hutten explains:

"The distribution of fasteners (bolts and nuts), worldwide, is moving to a pre-packed format and the main benefits are as follows:

- It takes the supply from behind a counter to the shop floor (self-help).
- Supply from the shop floor is a lot more cost effective than from "behind the counter"
- The shop floor enhances sales because clients can see the availability and variety.
- Clients save time by not having to stand in queues waiting to be helped.
- Stock takes is a lot faster, therefore more cost effective.
- Stock losses could be something of the past, therefore enhancing profitability.

At Prodlist our fasteners are all pre-packed with the part number, description, pack quantities and weights clearly marked on pack labels. In addition all pack size quantities are calculated on typical small store average sales quantities. All fasteners are zinc plated, since 70% of fasteners sold nowadays are zinc-plated. The pre-packed products are also barcoded. More good news for the customer is that the fasteners are priced and sold per individual unit and not per kilogram any longer.

Fasteners are colour coded as follows:

- High Tensile Products : Yellow
- Mild Steel Products : Blue
- Imperial Products : Green
- Screw Products : Red

The pre-packed brand is known as "HANDYLAD" and products packed in this format is available from Prodlist. This new colour coded prepacks will be on display at the Prodlist Open Day.
